EGIS E-Procurement

Our high-performance channel procurement and information platform – full price view and electronic ordering included

Try it out – free trial available – no billing details required!

EGIS is the ultimate way to streamline and track your channel purchasing. The complexity of having to find products, then compare prices and availability across multiple distributor platforms becomes a thing of the past, allowing you to focus entirely on your customers.

Fully integrated with the back-office systems of approved distributors, your entire account profile is pulled through into the tool, meaning your channel procurement experience is not only automated, but completely personalised.

Through dropdown menus, you are able to review all negotiated distributor trading terms, search and compare products and pricing, and use our quote generator.

Purchasing made easy

See all your price feeds at a glance

With over two million articles available, no other channel procurement tool offers as many products, giving you full transparency on up-to-date pricing, availability, delivery times, and the terms and conditions of our listed distributors.

Order automatically with no extra fees

Order stock, process RMA claims, handle time-consuming project applications and create end customer proposals. All this using one central purchasing platform at a fixed monthly price, with just one licence for all your staff, regardless of the size of your business.

Basket optimisation

Multiple lines on a single purchase order? Our basket optimisation dynamically searches authorised supplier profiles to deliver either the very best trading or delivery terms for that order.
